

Sgorbati, Bond Named UVM Gund Affiliates

JANUARY 16, 2018

Director of Bennington's Center for the Advancement of Public Action (CAPA), Susan Sgorbati, and faculty member in the environment and Associate Director of CAPA David Bond have been named Global Affiliates at the University of Vermont's Gund Institute for Environment.

The Gund Institute brings together scholars and leaders to accelerate research, uncover solutions, and tackle the world's most pressing environmental issues.

Gund Affiliates are appointed to three-year renewable terms, during which they collaborate with the Institute on transdisciplinary research, participate regularly in Gund seminars and events, and support graduate education through guest lecturing and informal mentoring.
