

College Council

When the Recreation Barn was first opened it was supposed that it would serve both the public and the college community. The liquor policy for the building was drawn up with this in mind. After two years experimentation it has been found that the Recreation Barn serves a function similiar to that served by the house living rooms. Therefore the College Council has decided that the standard which ~~was~~ states:

"There shall be no hard liquor served or consumed in the Carriage Barn" shall now read:

" All types of liquor may be served or consumed in the Carriage Barn;however,the same standards of behavior will be expected in the Carriage Barn,as are expected to prevail elsewhere on campus".

It is advised,however,that groups planning to have parties in the Carriage Barn find out before scheduling them whether the building is being used for a public or semi-public gathering.

El Metcalf