Re:

I am very glad you wrote me in regard to the Durit glassware being used in the Dining Rooms as this was the first information I had had that explosions of glassware had occurred this fall. As you probably already know, the glassware has now been withdrawn from use and will not be used again under any circumstances. I entirely agree with you that the College cannot afford to risk injury to its students or employees through the use of any equipment that has been found to be unsafe.
