

THE SILO

(Minutes of October 27, 1941.)

The board of The Silo met on October 27. Those members present- Joan Strong, Nancy Hirose, Catharine Heerman, Anne Peattie, Joan Bayne, Carole Goldschmidt, and Yvonne Roy. Absent- Lucille Bloch.

The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing the forthcoming issue of The Silo.

LAYOUT:

There is to be included an article on social re-organization in a small community. Accompanying and illustrating this article will be two pages of photographs, at $10.00 a page.

The Silo board has felt that the magazine needs a more outstanding cover. The Art editor has been discussing plans for the color and design of such a cover with Mr. Charles Smith. The cost of printing a new cover would be about $7.00.

MATERIAL:

A final selection was made from the material submitted to the Silo board, and the forthcoming magazine has been made up. It will be sent to the printer on November 3.

It is estimated that the next magazine will contain about 40 pages.
