

As part of the celebration of 2010 All-Class Alumni Reunion Weekend, we invited alumni to express themselves - in a 5x7 format - and share these creative expressions with the community. The 171 pieces you see here represent what 104 alumni (and one faculty member) created when posed with the question, "What would you do with 35 square inches?" Participation includes graduates from the earliest classes (1936) to the most recent (2010), from those who attended the College for one term to MFA graduates, and from alumni living locally to those across the globe.

All works sold tonight and over the weekend will support Bennington's scholarship program. Each work is for sale for $35.

TO PURCHASE A 5X7 WORK OF ART:

- Remove the numbered tag from the shelf in front of the piece you want to purchase.
- Take this tag to the payment table located near the front entrance to the Deane Carriage Barn.
- After purchase, keep your receipt; you will need it to take your piece with you at the end of the night.
- After the evening is over, you may take the 5x7 off the shelf.
- Show the receipt and piece to the student worker at the exit.

A note about the shelves: The shelves are made out of salvaged mahogany wood from the north side of the Visual and Performing Arts Building (VAPA). The shelves were once horizontal and vertical beams that held two panes of glass for the windows.

The 5x7 exhibition was a collaborative effort of many in the Bennington College community. Special thanks go to Dorothy Allen '09, Samantha Damon '09, Joan Goodrich, Erin McKenny, Farhad Mirza '12, John Umphlett, and all of the Facilities staff.

Music tonight is by John (Scheuer) Malino '81, a singer, guitarist, and bandleader based in New York City. Highly acclaimed and often compared by the press to Harry Connick Jr. and Frank Sinatra, this multi-talented musician has produced and performed his music coast to coast. Many thanks to him for sharing his music with us.
