The Bennington College Drama Division Presents

A Delicate Balance
by Edward Albee

“...all serious art, not just plays, is an attempt to modify and change people's perception of themselves, to bring them into larger contact with being alive...art is not pacification...it's disturbance...if we lived in a utopian society, there would be no need for art...but I think we are a certain distance from that anyway, aren't we? I have noticed.”

—Edward Albee

The Director Wishes to Thank My cast (who made this process a particular pleasure); my stage managers, Leesa and Jessica, for stress relief; Erin, Tracy, Alex and Diva for working with me every step of the way to make this vision a reality; Joel Martin and Janis Young for their continued support and advice; Leesa and Diva for love and more; and finally to Gladden Schrock for his inspiration and guidance which help me to realize more each day what the doing of theatre is really all about.
