Dear Helen,

Thanks for letting me see the picture---I have it too, so there's no need to send your copy back. I don't like it much, since Marion's sucking a lifesaver and making faces at herself in the mirror. I have a few pictures of her playing Mamma Noah, and Clytemnestra in Electra, probably her best roles. If you use ~~this~~ making-up picture, maybe you ought to publish another one with it, to show what she looked like---that is, if you have room. Maybe you could drop by here and see what little I have. I hate to trust them to the US mail. Can't you put us on your next official jaunt?

Emily Alford will, I'm sure, do a fine job writing her up. And I'm glad you're making that gesture in the alumni magazine.

I'd love to see you and Paul in your grand new house before I pull out, and maybe I'll fix it somehow. Right now I'm working kind of numbly at things I have to do before January, and no end in sight. But let's keep it in mind. At least we ought to be able to get together some time when you and Paul are in NY.

love to you both
