

31 January 1983.

Dear Wendy,

When Donald said he would be seeing you Wednesday, I grabbed the opportunity of confining the keys to the Judson cases into his care.

We could not re-open one of the locks on Box C, so we have had to attach a second padlock, for which you need the tiny key enclosed with the other.

I shall be writing again very soon, but Donald has to catch his plane now, so

Yours

Val
