Dear Wendy

JUDSON DANCE THEATRE EXHIBITION

Let this be a lesson to us, we have been hoping that the rate of exchange would improve in our favour, but instead it has plummeted to an all-time low. We enclose money orders to the value of $2175.25, ie $1840.25 for the exhibition and $335.00 for the catalogues ($2.50 for each sold or retained). We returned ten with the exhibition and the remainder were either sold or have vanished into the darkest recesses of Riverside Studios. I am hopeful that they will reappear, but since this is not your problem we are paying you for them.

By now the exhibition must be on show in Washington. Will it still be on when I am in New York in the latter part of April? I would love to see it there. I will bring with me copies of press releases and other publicity material. I will call as soon as I arrive and perhaps we can get together.

Forgive us for the delay in paying the bills, we have had enormous cash-flow problems. Thank you for all your help in organising the exhibition.

Yours

P.P. Elizabeth M. Clutt
