Dear John,

The time has come to start planning our next summer, and I am very much hoping that you will again be willing to meet with our Prose Writing Workshop during July. Nick will again be planning it and John will this time be a one day or two day guest. (He has located himself near Washington now and is not so available to us as he was before.)

We had a lot of terrific input from people following your talk last year, and also some suggestions in general on how to make our program more interesting. We very much hope to incorporate you and those suggestions in another writing program this summer. Will you let me know pretty soon if you are able to do it?

It would be lovely for Lou and me if you and Mary could come again, perhaps on John's birthday again, and enjoy another dinner with us. I'll look forward to hearing from you as soon as your summer plans begin to take shape. I hope you are having a very productive fall.

Best regards,

Christine Graham
Director of Special Projects
