REPEAT OF READING FILMS

The Harvard films for the improvement of reading speed and comprehension will be shown again beginning next Monday, May 30, in Room 1, the Barn. The film will be shown each day at 1:30 and lasts about eight minutes; another eight minutes may go to the comprehension tests. This time the 16 films will be crowded into ten sessions: Monday through Friday for two weeks. The Cooperative Store is ordering another lot of the comprehension tests which should be here by Monday. Price is $1.00.

FROM THE STUDENT PERSONNEL OFFICEProgram Planning for Fall Term

Students and faculty are reminded that program planning for Fall Term by students with counselors should be done between May 30 and June 4. Material for this will be distributed by Monday morning, May 30. All program cards bearing the signature of counselor and class cards, initialed by instructors, are due in the Student Personnel Office on or before Saturday, June 4.

FROM THE NON-RESIDENT TERM OFFICE

If there is a student who is interested in acquiring experience and knowledge about the theatrical field during the Non-Resident Term in 1956, we have a lead which can be followed up at this time. The job would require shorthand skill which a student might find possible to obtain during the summer.

A Display Company in New York City uses temporary help from mid-December to mid-March and also during the summer months. They are designers and manufacturers of display props for department and specialty store use. The duties would be to gold-leaf some object, type, shop for needed materials, run errands, etc., etc. They want people who will some day be self-sufficient at some artistic talent but who, today, wants some practical experience.

If there is a student who can type and would like to work near Boston, there is a job in the Institute for Applied Experimental Psychology of Tufts College. Although the work is of a clerical nature, it should be of particular interest to a student planning to major in psychology.

Further details on the above jobs can be had in the Non-Resident Term Office.

Miss Jane Houston, Guidance Director of the Berkeley Business School in White Plains, New York, will be here on May 26th. If there are any students interested in getting business training in the future, she will be glad to meet them.
