Dear Mrs. Buschardt - in the risk of being tedious I feel I must congratulate you again on the success of your symposium, so imaginatively conceived and brilliantly realized. The need I think of it the more its importance strikes me - of course for the students (how lucky they are!) but also and equally for the prestige of the college It attracted people from all over New England as well as from New York and I know that they left - oh Gosh I know many of them who left with the hope that they would establish a precedent for future symposiums along the same line.

W. H. Thanks -

Sincerely
Edgard Varese
