Program

Pianist Barbara Browne studied with Eleanor Sokoloff in Philadelphia and with Robert McDonald at Oberlin College, where she majored in English. She was a prize-winner at the Fischhoff National Chamber Music Competition, and has concertized as soloist and chamber player in New York and Pennsylvania. Currently she is piano instructor and vocal accompanist at Bennington.

Violist Sheila Browne studied with Karen Tuttle at the Juilliard School and did postgraduate work with Kim Kashkashian in Freiburg, Germany on a Fulbright grant. She has toured with the Pellegrini quartet and been principal violist of the New World Symphony. She is violist of the Gotham String Quartet, which is in the quartet fellowship program at Rice University.

Many thanks to Yoshiko Sato, Suzanne Jones, Dan Epstein, Susie Reiss and my piano and voice students for all their help and encouragement.
