

Report on the Survey of the College Cooperative Store Fall 1941

The Staff has a very high percentage of membership. Out of the eight people, seven are members of the Store--87 $\frac{1}{2}$ %. But the Faculty and Assistants do not make such a good showing, probably because a lot of them live off-campus and are not dependent on the College for their supplies.

Faculty 74 $\frac{1}{2}$ % members. The first set of procedures seems to be to give 55 faculty with these numbers in order to point up to the 41 members of the Store store involves. It looks as Assistants 33.3% have not joined simply because of lack of interest. 33 assistants also. The second set of procedures is to give 10 members of the Store in the upper classes which would seem to indicate that some of them do not wish to belong to the store. The four members of the upper class all seem to be very good reasons for not belonging.

It is to be hoped that they will join now since they will be helping the store very much.
