

GALLEY

March 23, 1966

The members of Booth House have placed themselves on a "no party probation" now passed on officially by the Judicial Committee. It is now the responsibility of each and every member of the house to make sure no parties begin (a party being loosely defined as more than 10-15 people, a record player, liquor, etc., although a gathering may be a "party" without fulfilling these qualifications) and if one does seem to be beginning, to ask everyone to leave, or to call the night watchman if necessary.

We would appreciate, and need, your cooperation in keeping this regulation by not wandering into Booth House in search of a party and, most important, by not sending any male guests to Booth House.

Thank you very much.

Ellen Rae Glick,
House Chairman,
Booth House
