Will all faculty members please check next week with their counselees or tutees to see that they are going out for farm work? In case any students have legitimate complaints or helpful suggestions, I would appreciate it if you would forward them to me. Also, if you can spot any cases of particularly uncooperative or detrimental attitudes, would you let me know; such girls we might well excuse from farm work if it seems advisable.

And now that we are trying to impress on the students the urgency of the planting crisis, it might be helpful if some of the faculty would lend a hand at actual work. A few students have commented on the fact that they have never seen any faculty members on the farm.
