

Bennington College presents

ROBERT H. WOODWORTH LECTURE IN THE Sciences

Global Climate Change: Causes, Impacts, and Solutions

Monday, March 17, 2008

7:30 pm • Barn 100

President of the Cary Institute of Ecosystem Studies, William H. Schlesinger is a leading researcher in ecosystem science. Dr. Schlesinger's research on global climate change has been featured on National Public Radio, CNN, PBS's NOVA, and in Discover magazine, National Geographic magazine, The New York Times, and Scientific American. He has served as a high-level advisor on a wide range of environmental issues, with testimony before U.S. House and Senate Committees on a variety of environmental issues. This talk will focus on both the science of climate change and measures that can reduce its negative effects.

Dr. Schlesinger will present a more technical research talk at 1:00 pm, also in Barn 100. The title of that talk is "The global carbon cycle and the Duke Forest CO₂ Enrichment (FACE) project."

These events are free and open to the public. For more information, visit www.bennington.edu or call 802-440-4743.
