

MUSIC MONDAYS

from the CARRIAGE BARN

Bennington College presents its first-ever remote concert and music lecture series, Music Mondays from the Carriage Barn, featuring influential and boundary-pushing guest performers and scholars. With an ambitious and adventurous line-up curated by Senem Pirlar and Joseph Alpar, the heart of Music Mondays from the Carriage Barn will be performances and research that highlight music and lives of Black, indigenous, people of color, queer, female-identified, and non-binary performers and artists. These virtual events are free and open to the public.

Virtual Concert Series / BENNINGTON COLLEGE

FACULTY CONCERT

September 7 / 7 PM

On September 7, the Bennington College music faculty will welcome the community virtually back to campus with a Fall concert in the Deane Carriage Barn.

The performance will include an eclectic repertoire that encompasses classical compositions, jazz, improvisation, and original music.

This concert will stream on Twitch.

MORE UPCOMING EVENTS

September 14 LECTURE

DAPHNE A. BROOKS, Yale University

Breonna's Song: Protest Music Epistemologies of the Right Now

September 21 CONCERT

THESSIA MACHADO

Visual/sound artist, instrument builder and performer

For more info, visit:

www.bit.ly/musicmondaysbton