

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Bennington College Calendar

March 19-26, 1969

Wednesday, March 12, Barn 1, 7:30 p.m. Science Lecture. "Five Little Toads and How They Grew--One Way to Spend a Sabbatical." John F. Wohnus, of the Bennington science faculty, will summarize the research he did at the City of Hop National Medical Center, Duarte, California, during his sabbatical leave last fall.

Thursday, March 20, Carriage Barn, 8:30 p.m. Concert. The New Collegiate Jazz Band. This sixteen piece band from Trinity College is a non-profit, non-sponsored group which plays its own arrangements in the style of the Berkeley School of Music. They will appear at the Quinnipiac Intercollegiate Jazz Festival for a second time in April.

Friday, March 21, Carriage Barn, 8:15 p.m. Bach birthday party. This is the 284th anniversary of Bach's birthday. There will be a festival in his honor with his music played live and on records. Refreshments. All Bach lovers invited.

Monday, March 24, Carriage Barn Lounge. Lecture. Professor Andrzej Wirth will talk on "Brecht vs. Brecht: His Reception in West and East." A native of Poland, Mr. Wirth was invited by Brecht to the Berlin Ensemble for a year in 1956, the last year of Brecht's life. He has been editor of NOWA KULTURA in Warsaw and is now Professor of drama at Stanford.

Wednesday, March 26, Carriage Barn, 8:15 p.m. Lute Concert.