

THE REVIEW OF BLACK POLITICAL ECONOMY

Editor: Alvin Puryear

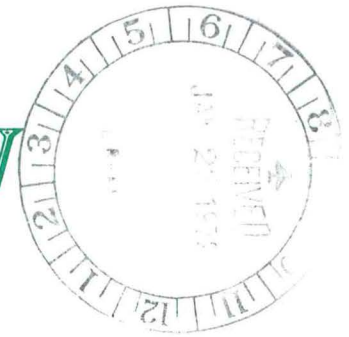

Board of Editorial Advisors:

Richard F. America, Jr., University of California, Berkeley
Bernard E. Anderson, University of Pennsylvania
Robert S. Browne, The Black Economic Research Center
John W. Handy, The Black Economic Research Center
Jesse T. Morris, The Black Economic Research Center
Alvin N. Puryear, Bernard Baruch College

Publications Manager: Esther Silver

Vol. 2, No. 1 — Autumn 1971

The Review of Black Political Economy

THE REVIEW OF BLACK POLITICAL ECONOMY

Please enter my subscription for:

☐ 1 year — (4 issues) $7.00 ☐ 2 years — (8 issues) $13.00

Name

Address

City State Zip

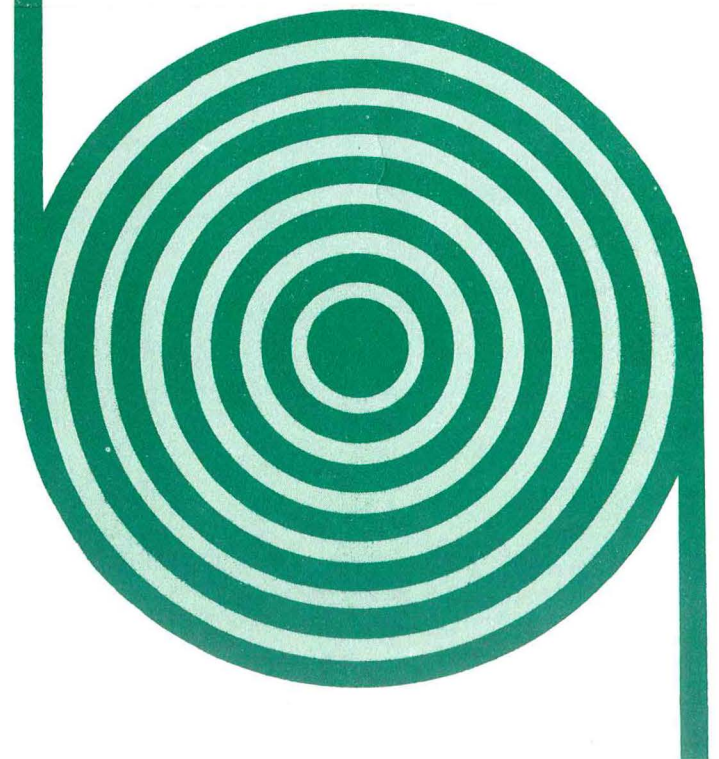

As a Gift from me and mail to: Please enclose gift card

Name

Address

City State Zip

- ☐ Check enclosed
☐ Money order enclosed

THE REVIEW OF Black Political Economy

A Publication of the Black Economic Research Center
Robert S. Browne, Director

Volume 2	Autumn 1971	Number 1
----------	-------------	----------

EDITORIAL NOTE MENU ARTICLES

An Eclectic Approach to the Problem of Black Economic Development	3
Courtney N. Blackman
Ghetto Development, Community Corporations, and Public Policy	22
Thomas Vietorisz and Bennett Harris
The Dialectics of Black Capitalism	29
Michael Zweig
The Constellation of Politics and Economics: A Dynamic Duo in the Black Economy	40
Robert S. Browne
Black Politicians in the Time of The "New" Urban Politics	48
Matthew Holden
Bauxite: The Need to Nationalize, Part I	65
Norman Girvan
Institutional Foundations of Resource Underdevelopment in the Caribbean	78
George Beckford
Africa and the European Economic Community	99
Monique Garrity

BOOK REVIEWS

Directory of Afro-American Resources
Low-Income Housing: A Critique of Federal Aid
The Myth of Black Capitalism
CDCs: New Hope for the Inner City
The Economic Development of Harlem
Black Americans and White Business

Special Review: Africa's Captive Economies

NOTICES

THE REVIEW OF BLACK POLITICAL ECONOMY
112 West 120th Street
New York, New York 10027

December 1971

Dear Relevant Reader:

There are so many periodicals published these days that busy people find it difficult to know which ones merit their attention. We are reasonably certain that THE REVIEW OF BLACK POLITICAL ECONOMY is one which will interest you.

With the appearance of the Fall issue, THE REVIEW began its second year of publication. During the past year, while a copy probably came to your attention, we feel certain that you would like to know more about it. THE REVIEW is published and edited entirely by black economists and economic developers. Its articles provide in-depth treatment of the many and varied issues which surround the little understood subject of black economic development. The articles are frequently innovative, sometimes controversial, and always provocative.

During its first year, THE REVIEW published articles on several topics, including:

- Ghetto Income
- Cash Flows in Ghetto Communities
- Economics of the Caribbean
- Black Poverty
- Inner City Dispersal
- Migratory Farm Workers
- Minority Entrepreneurship
- Black Capitalism

In the coming months we plan to produce occasional "Special Issues" on such vital topics as:

- Blacks and the Land Question
- Community Development Corporations
- Reparations
- Housing

We invite you to join our list of readers by

- Filling in the subscription form on the back of this page
- Mailing the form with your check or money order in our postage free envelope

We think you will be pleased that you added THE REVIEW to your reading schedule.

Sincerely yours,
ALVIN N. PURYEAR,
Editor