Bennington College

Come join us in a celebration of song and dance!

Acknowledgements

I would like to express my appreciation to the many staff, faculty, and students whose contributions have made this performance possible: Michael Buhl, Ron Cohen, Dave Cranmer, Lydia English, Ida Faiella, Michael Giannitti, Mike Leary, and Rachel Whitman who comprised the planning committee; Mickey Carter, Suzanne Jones, the Maintenance staff, Mill River High School Music Department, Noah Musler, for technical assistance and setup; Ida Faiella and Lisa Clayton for creating a unique opportunity for students to work in a clinic on spiritual voice; Sue Reiss for assistance with the display exhibit in the Jennings music library; Paul Renzi and the Food Services staff for supplying meals and food snacks for the choir and guests; Doug Krause and Dennis Ayers for assistance with accommodations. For extraordinary promotional and publications efforts, much appreciation to Dave Cranmer, Linda Fox, and Mike Leary. For Bennington students who volunteered their time and hospitality to host the student members of the choir during their stay on campus. For all your support and assistance with the preparations for this event, a very special thanks to my colleagues in the Student Life Office: Donna Bourassa, Doreen Forney, Eric Marchese, and Joan Edwards and the fabulous student office staff.

Director Lisa Clayton

Lisa Clayton is a graduate assistant in voice and the music director of the Voices of Freedom Gospel Choir. Ms. Clayton is a 1994 magna cum laude graduate of Paine College in Augusta, GA. While in Augusta, she was soloist for and member of the Paine College Concert Choir, the Paine College Chamber Singers, and the Augusta Chorale. Additionally, she served as assistant director of the Paine College Gospel Choir, Choral Director and Musician at Williams Memorial C.M.E. Church and elementary music teacher in the Richmond County School System. Ms. Clayton was named the 1992 Paine College Student of the Year, the recipient of the Rosa Creque Choral Scholarship, and the winner of the Jessye Norman Vocal Competition. Currently, she performs with UConn Opera, the University Festival Chorus, the Recital Chorus, the Chamber Singers, and is pursuing a Master of Music degree in vocal performance.
