

GALLEY

May 1, 1967

It is to me appalling that a large group of supposedly well brought up girls daily are responsible for the horrible mess they make in Commons. Is it so difficult to walk a few feet to the nearest trash can? Is it necessary to leave bottles and beer cans in various parts of the campus? Surely we could be more responsible than this. Bennington is judged by the face it presents, and it is not a pleasant face at eleven in the morning or at night. Students, and faculty, should both try harder.

Anita Roach