A SLIDE LECTURE BY DR. THOMAS GREGOR, PROFESSOR OF ANTHROPOLOGY AT VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY: "Men's House: Opposition and Ambivalence in Men's and Women's Relationships among the Mehinaku Indians of Brazil." The lecture will focus on the Mehinaku and other small scale societies but implications will be drawn for male conduct in our own society.

Dr. Gregor, who received his Ph.D. from Columbia University in 1969, has done extensive research with the Mehinaku of central Brazil during the past 15 years. He is one of the few anthropologists working on the subject of privacy in its diverse manifestations cross-culturally. Dr. Gregor has published numerous scientific papers. His book, Mehinaku: The Drama of Social Life in a Brazilian Village, was published by the University of Chicago Press in 1977. This lecture is sponsored by the Social Science Division. The general public is cordially invited.

Mon. at 10 p.m.
Tues. at 9 p.m.
Tishman

FILM: Idi Amin Dada (1976) Director Barbet Schroeder. In 1974 French director Barbet Schroeder spent two weeks in Uganda with its dictator, General Idi Amin. This film, which Schroeder calls a self-portrait, was made with the complete cooperation of Amin who had final approval of the film. At one point, objecting to a portion of the film, Amin incarcerated 100 French citizens in a Kampala Hotel. Needless to say, Schroeder capitulated and removed the offensive portion from the film. Even so, the film could not be more revealing.

Tuesday, April 3
10 a.m.
Barn I

SECOND LECTURE BY DR. THOMAS GREGOR, "Secrets, Exclusion, and the Dramatization of Men's Roles," focuses on the nature and function of secret societies. The general public is cordially invited.

Discussion on the career opportunities in the lucrative field of advertising.

8 p.m.
Tishman

FILM: Jonah Who Will Be 25 in the Year 2000 (1976) Director Alain Tanner. With Jean-Luc Bideau, Miou-Miou, Jacques Denis, Dominique Labourier. Alain Tanner describes Jonah as "a dramatic tragi-comedy in political science-fiction." The ensemble acting is fantastic, especially Jean-Luc Bideau as a disillusioned editor who has turned to roulette, Myriam Meziere as a secretary who likes her sex tantric, Miou-Miou as a supermarket cashier who performs revolutionary acts with her cash register, and Jacques Denis as a highly unorthodox professor who sees history as a sausage.

NEXT WEEK

Mon.-Tues., April 9-10 Film: To be announced
Monday, April 9 Dance Lecture
Wednesday, April 11 Music Division: Concert of Student Composers
Saturday, April 14 Film: The Gay Divorcee (1934) Director Mark Sandrich.

April 4th Meeting:

Peter Beck announced to the committee that he will be unable to chair the April 4th S.E.P.C. meeting. Members were advised to appoint a temporary chairman for next meeting.

Long Review Forms:

S.E.P.C. division representatives were requested to obtain the class lists of those faculty members currently under review from the Dean of Studies secretary, Gert Syverstad and also counselor lists from Terry Yancy, Jane Sobel's assistant.

Review forms are to be returned to Pauline in the President's office where she will cross off the names of those students who returned the forms. This is the same system as last term.

On the matter of the supply of Review forms, the committee decided to offset the old review form excepting the first page which Leslie Weber offered to retype. The total number of Review Forms to be produced will be 2000.

Review forms will be collated by committee members Jim Philips, Keven Vance, Judith Berman, and John Holland, and Anne Schwartz.

S.E.P.C. on Reserve:

Peter Beck reported that the library was willing to put S.E.P.C. documents on the reserve shelf.

Masters Program:

Stephen Haynes reported on the minutes of FEPC's sub-committee so called the Masters Committee. Numerous inquiries about the possibility of Bennington having a masters program has prompted the FEPC members to discuss the viability of such an undertaking. The committee described a two year program that included some teaching responsibilities and the addition of two graduate students in each division each term. While the Drama, Music and Art Divisions found the notion of a masters program enticing and a welcome addition to the community concern was voiced over the expense of such a program and the resentment students might feel if they had graduate students teaching them.

Students with questions on the Masters Program should contact Stephen Haynes.

Review Proposal:

Jim Philips is to contact Ken Mayers concerning the review proposal he intends to introduce to the faculty.

S.E.P.C. Class Representatives:

S.E.P.C. members were requested to contact the faculty in their divisions and remind them to have their classes elect S.E.P.C. representatives.

Meeting started 7:00

Tuesday March 27, 1979

absent: Ludlow, Hill House, Welling Town House, Library House, Franklin, Stokes

Kevin Farley is the new Student Council President and Soli Ozel is the new Student Council Vice President. Over one-half of the student body voted; 393 votes were cast. Kevin Farley received 278 votes, Jeff Sarnoff received 85 votes. Soli Ozel received 257 votes, Donna Jordan received 107 votes. There were 11 abstentions and 7 write-ins.

Kevin Farley reported that there is a total of $2879.74 in the Student Council's budget.

Kevin Farley stressed that more input and communication is needed between Student Council and the Recreation Committee.

Orren Beth Weisberg was voted the new Student Council Secretary.

Tim Littlefield was voted the new Student Council Treasurer.

The Art and Architecture Committee needs five new members. Erin Quinn, Randy Witlicki, Missy Icks, and Amy Eller are potential candidates for the positions. Any other interested students should submit their names to their respective Student Council Representative.

The Judicial Committee needs seven new members. Any interested students should submit their names to their respective Student Council Representative.

Andrea Loselle was voted as the representative to act as the liason between Student Council and S.E.P.C.

The Constitutional Advisory Committee needs five student members. Any interested students should submit their names to their respective Student Council Representative.

Kevin Farley reaffirmed the importance of weekly reports given by student committees, such as Admissions, Library, Housing, N.R.T., Library, Pet, Food, and Health. Each committee will be expected to give a report of their activities every Student Council meeting.

Paul Renzi, previous to the Council's meeting, expressed his concern that money was being lost by having the Student Council meetings during dinner in the dining room. He suggested that the meetings should be held on the third floor of Commons at a different time. He offered that coffee, tea, and other refreshments would be provided. Due to student schedules, the Council decided to retain the meetings on Tuesdays at 6:00 in the Red Dining Room.

Anita Stevens proposed a motion that the floating bar fund be kept separately in the bookkeeper's office for convenience in bookkeeping. Motion passed unanimously.

A steering committee was formed to organize a student meeting that would mobilize student support and input for the Trustee meeting on April 21, 1979. The students on the committee are Howard Gross, Anita Stevens, Ceci Meyerson, Randy Witlicki, Tim Littlefield, and Brynn Collier. A galley will be distributed stating the exact time and place of the student meeting.
ALL STUDENTS PLEASE COME. WE NEED YOUR SUPPORT AND IDEAS.

It was reported that Paul Opel wanted to tune the pianos in the houses for a charge of $15.00 per piano. He tuned the pianos last year and was paid by Short Aldrich. This year his request was sent to the Council. In consideration of the Student Council's limited budget, although they believe it is important to keep the pianos tuned, it was unanimously decided that this money should be taken from a different fund, such as Maintenance.

Tim Littlefield proposed a motion that all Student Council checks should be approved and signed by the treasurer of Student Council. Motion passed.

Soli Ozel suggested that the television in the Cafe be moved to another location now that the baseball season is approaching.. Howard Gross is checking the condition of the television.

Soli Ozel brought up the complaint concerning the pathetic condition of the washing machines and dryers. Short Aldrich has already been informed about this problem and is investigating alternatives for new and bigger machines.

Jeff Russack reported that people in his house have complaints about the rising costs of food at the Cafe. He also expressed the concern that no one knew who to voice their complaints to. Noa Ben-Amotz is the manager of the Cafe and she talked to the Council. She explained that the cafe had been operating on a deficit and was advised by Bernie Iser to triple the food costs. Although she did not triple the costs, prices had to be raised.

A related discussion was brought forth concerning the obtainment of a beer and wine liquor license. Student response to this suggestion will be discussed at the next meeting.

Kevin Farley voiced the widespread and rising complaint about the $7.00 parking ticket fee. He noted that the cost of parking tickets in the town of Bennington is $1.00. After house discussion, the matter will be discussed in Student Council.

Lynn Hicks questioned the shorter new library hours. Kevin Farley explained that the Library's budget had to be cut which necessitated the shorter library hours.

Any student interested in addressing the Student Council should contact Kevin Farley (box# 229) or Orren Weisberg (Box# 624) before the Student Council meeting.

Meeting adjourned 7:00.

Student Council Secretary

Orren Weisberg
