

JUDSON DANCE THEATER: 1962 - 1966
an exhibit of photographs, scores and videotapes

DECEMBER 1-18, 1981
USDAN GALLERY
Bennington College
Bennington, Vermont
1 - 5pm daily

begins JANUARY 12, 1982
GREY ART GALLERY
33 Washington Place
New York City
212-598-7603 (call for hours)

The show documents work of artists who participated in a moment of radical change in Dance.

Seminal ideas for Contact Improvisation were generated during the early Judson Dance Period. Of particular interest are photographs of Trisha Brown's Lightfall and Simone Forti, who said, circa 1960, "Lets run and jump and bump in the air. And see what happens."

B. Paxton