Lester Martin Theater

Robert Schumann composed his most famous song cycle, the Dichterliebe (“The Poet’s Love”) in 1840, selecting 16 of the 65 poems from Heinrich Heine’s Lyrisches Intermezzo as the texts for his composition. The poems are filled with many strange and wonderful images: flowers, nightingales, stars; images of nature, of dreams, and of death; the enigmatic portrait in the cathedral at Cologne which looks exactly like the Beloved, and of course, the unseen but oft-mentioned Beloved herself.

I learned the music of the Dichterliebe over this past FWT and developed a theater piece in my Solo Performance class this term, using the 16 songs that make up the Dichterliebe as its basis. It was my intention to let the wonderful poetry and music of the Dichterliebe inspire and inform the way I approached creating a theater piece around a pre-existing piece of music. I hope that the result is a fresh, exciting, and enlivening exploration of a beloved classic.

I would like to extend thanks to all my teachers and mentors who have taught me so much over the past four years. For their help on this particular project, I would like to thank Webster Marsh, Katherine Perkins, Emily Woods Hogue, Dan Roninson, Rob Post, Mike Rancourt, Linda Hurley, Suzanne Jones, and Nick Brooke. I am ever grateful to Tom Bogdan for the work he has done with me on the Dichterliebe and to Yoshiko Sato for making music with me. I would like to extend a special thanks to Kirk Jackson, Jenny Rohn, and the students in my Solo Performance class. Without their invaluable feedback this project would not have been possible.

Thank you. Please enjoy the show!
