Goerlitz—an actor and model whose work includes roles in feature films, theater, and other television commercials—took an historic stand in 1988 against the tobacco industries by condemning their targeting and selling their production to young people. He has since spoken to more than 1 million students throughout the world and has lectured at Stanford, Harvard, UCLA, and elsewhere. He has also participated in the production of several educational videos about tobacco addiction. Location TRA, 8 p.m.

Friday, October 20 - Monday, October 23
LONG WEEKEND FOR STUDENTS

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 24

*PROFESSOR H. BRUTON

Professor H. Bruton from Williams College will give a talk entitled "African Economic Prospects." African countries have experienced widespread unemployment, low labor productivity; governments are often corrupt. There are the usual consequences of poverty: high infant and child mortality, high rates of illiteracy, chronic malnutrition, and poor housing. This lecture will identify a few reasons why the African economic picture is not entirely hopeless. Professor Bruton will focus on the activity in the informal sectors—small scale, indigenous, local production units that seem to be appearing with increasing frequency around Africa. He will also discuss the role the U.S. can play in helping Africans improve their economics. Barn 1, 8 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 25

MOSTLY WEDNESDAYS

The Pope isn't the only one who knows Latin. Come join us for this week's Mostly Wednesdays, featuring instruction in Latin Dancing with a review of dances previously taught. All are welcome to attend. Martha Hill Dance Workshop, 4:30 p.m.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27

*THE VISIT

Bennington College will present The Visit, scenes from Bowles' translation of Friedrich Dürrenmatt's Der Besuch der alten Dame or The Visit. The production, directed by senior Jim Allen, is one of Dürrenmatt's most successful theater pieces, portraying an old lady's return to her native town to seek revenge against her old lover. VAPA D207, 8 p.m.

*JOAN TOWER

Joan Tower '61, one of this generation's most dynamic and colorful composers, will give a presentation of her work entitled "Choreographing Sound—A Woman in a Man's World." Her bold and energetic music, with its striking imagery and novel structural forms, is winning large, enthusiastic audiences. Tower is a special favorite of performers as well, for her years of experience as a pianist have helped give her music a special sensitivity to the needs and interest of performers. Deane Carriage Barn, 8 p.m.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28

*LIFE SKILLS SEMINAR

The fourth in a series of seminars entitled Beyond the Green Mountains: Life Skills Seminar #1 will explore perception and perspective. This session focuses on the ways we process information about social situations and the people involved in them. This processing of information leads to perceptions that strongly influence the way we communicate with others. Many of the messages we assign meaning to are visual, but listening skill is probably the single most important communication skill. Until we explore how other people view things, we have little hope of understanding either them or our interactions with them. Our goal is to increase our perceptual competence. Purple Dining Room, Commons, 12:30 - 2 p.m.

*THE VISIT

Repeat of Friday night's production, The Visit. VAPA D207, 8 p.m.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 29

*DANCE CONCERT

Bennington College will present the final dance concert of MFA candidate Felice Wolfzahn. The evening will include a new group work involving nine dancers, Willa Carroll, Carrie Cross, Stephanie Gros, Adnan Iftekhar, Susannah Keebler, Irina Petrova, Allison McEntyre, Kim Hottenstein, and Nick Wroblewski. They will be accompanied by musicians Scott Moore and Michelle Dorvillier. The piece will be a culmination of work that was created by Felice with the dancers after an intensive one-month rehearsal period. House of Changes, a solo, will also be performed. Martha Hill Dance Workshop, 8 p.m.

*THE VISIT

Repeat of Friday night's production, The Visit. VAPA D207, 8 p.m.

ATTENTION FACULTY

USA Today is enlisting your support in selecting the nation's best and brightest college students. Students must be nominated by a faculty member. The criteria are designed to find students who excel not only in scholarship but in leadership roles on and off campus. A key element given most weight by judges will be a student's outstanding original academic and intellectual product. The judges will be influenced by the student's ability to describe that outstanding endeavor in his/her own words. They will not read an author's work, see an artist's painting, or hear a composer's music. They will rely solely on the student's ability to describe the effort in writing, supplemented by recommendations from the nominating professor and up to three other persons of the nominee's choice. Nominations must be postmarked by November 17, 1995 and competition is limited to full-time undergraduates. Nomination forms are available in the Office of the Dean of the College, Henrietta Marshall, Barn 50. Transcripts are also needed for the nomination, and the Dean's office will need two weeks' lead time in order to process the transcript.

Program in Public and Community Service Collaborative Program with North Bennington Graded School for FWT, 1996 Deadline Approaching

The College has developed a collaborative program with the North Bennington Graded School, a public school for children in grades K-6 located on School Street in North Bennington, a 15-minute walk from Commons.

As one part of this Program, international students are invited to apply for volunteer positions involving a minimum of 5-10 hours per week during the coming Field Work Term. Students will assist classroom teachers and teach about various aspects of their culture. With the approval of teachers and the principal, they may also have the opportunity to teach one or more special topics of their own inert.

This opportunity is built on the very successful work of Adnan Iftekhhar and Amir Raza during FWT 1994 and 1995. Both are willing to speak to current international students about their experiences.

Applications, consisting of a letter of interest, description of proposed teaching ideas, and resume, are due in Ron Cohen's office (Barn 80) no later than Monday, October 16 at 5 p.m. Candidates will be interviewed by Ron Cohen and by the principal and appropriate teachers at the North Bennington Graded School. If you are interested, please contact Ron Cohen in Barn 80, ext. 113.
