

I am certain I speak for all members of this community in expressing profound grief over the assassination of another of our national leaders, Senator Robert F. Kennedy. We mourn the loss of still another man who embodied our hopes for a better future. We despair over still another assault upon the politics of reason.

A musical service to the memory of Senator Kennedy will be conducted in front of Commons this Saturday, the day of his funeral, at about 12:30. Lunch will not be served until the memorial service is concluded.
