

BRIAN DONAHUE

Photo: Mike Lovett

The 2017 Robert H. Woodworth Lecture in the Sciences

“Wildlands, Woodlands, Farmlands and Communities: Visions of New England’s Future”

Thursday, March 16
7:30–9:00 pm, CAPA Symposium

Science Workshop

“Sustainable Working Landscapes: Challenges and Opportunities for Biodiversity, Water Quality, and Carbon Sequestration”

Friday, March 17, 1:00–2:00 pm, Dickinson 232

Brian Donahue is Associate Professor of American Environmental Studies and Chair of the Environmental Studies Program at Brandeis University, and Environmental Historian at Harvard Forest. Among his numerous articles and books, Reclaiming the Commons: Community Farms and Forests in New England won the Historic New England Prize, and The Great Meadow: Farmers and the Land in Colonial Concord won multiple awards including the George Perkins Marsh Prize from the American Society of Environmental History. He recently co-authored A New England Food Vision (www.nefoodvision.org), which lays out an advocacy plan for New England to produce 50% of its own food by 2060.

Both events are free and open to the public.

BENNINGTON COLLEGE