As part of an evaluation of its work with college students, the American Friends Service Committee is sending Professor Ira Reid, of Haverford College, and Miss Jean Fairfax, College Secretary for New England, to visit Bennington College. (Mr. Reid was the successful moderator of the American Values Series held at Bennington several years ago.)

The following question has been chosen for a discussion to be held in Stokes Living Room, 8 p.m., Friday, April 22nd: "Have we Americans the power to make significant advances in human and international relations?"

FROM THE NON-RESIDENT TERM OFFICE

SUMMER JOBS: The Alford Lake Camp, near Camden, Maine, needs the following counselors: Arts and Crafts Counselor, Water Front Counselor, Nature Counselor and one who can play the piano for singing, dance and dramatics. This is a good camp and the salaries are excellent to those who qualify. For further information see Miss Stickney or Miss Funnell.

There are also several counselor positions at a small co-ed interracial camp for children 5 - 15, located near Huntington, Mass. Starting salary $200. General counselors, arts and crafts, dance and drama counselors wanted. Candidates must be 21 by summer. This is a very interesting camp run along progressive lines. For further details, see Joyce Orgel.

NRT JOBS FOR NEXT YEAR: Miss Jean Fairfax, New England College Representative of the American Friends Service Comm., will be on campus Friday afternoon and evening, April 22nd, and would be glad to talk to any students who are interested in working with one of the Quaker projects during the summer or Non-Resident Term. The projects available in the winter are an Interne-in-Industry group, a work camp in Mexico and Institution Service projects in mental or corrective institutions.
