

Galley.

We hope that the community will forgive both the lateness and the hastiness of this galley, but we have been unable to get this information to the community before today. As it is, we can only inform you of intentions, not of real specifics.

Last night, a group of students met in Stokes Livingroom to discuss the possibility of presenting questions important to us, and we feel to the entire community, to the Trustees. As you know, their arrival is imminent. We have arrived at a tentative form and content for the meeting, and at the moment our major problem is in trying to schedule a time, as their schedule is extremely busy. We feel that it would be quite sad, however, if the opportunity for such a meeting were not available.

xx

We wish to ask the trustees questions in four areas:

1. their relationship to community laws and standards
2. their reasons for/understanding of the expansion program
3. what powers they have, what standing committees, etc., they have
4. whether they feel they should be included in the constitutional structure of the community, as a limited constituency

We wish to stress that the meeting, if arranged, will be open to the entire community, but that the questions asked will be specific and limited. Time is limited, and we cannot provide for open-ended dialogue. The purpose of the meeting is informational, not polemical.

If any in the community have questions which they feel should be brought up, please contact one of the people named below. The community will be informed of time, place, etc., as soon as they are determined.

Lisa Marshall
Andrea Dworkin
Libby Meyers
Diane Elzey
Leslie Berg
Janis Beaver
Barbara Gates
Margaret Parker
Nan Seldin
Judy Zenge
Ermetra Black

May 4, 1967.