My Marta, nobody is or will ever be capable of understanding you as I do, and nobody will ever be able to love you more than I do. Perhaps today upon this earth there is not a single spirit that understands more about life and is able to receive so much of it in himself as I do. And you can say and affirm, without fear that anybody might contradict you, that you own this spirit of mine – all for yourself as your own property to do whatever you want with it; and that now that spirit lives upon this earth only in order to comprehend all life and to give to others the way to understand it and conceive it. This spirit of mine abnegates itself before you, it disappears; or it becomes your shadow on the ground, inseparable. Look at your shadow on the ground, my Marta: it's I who is following you, who is near you; you cannot lose me! And you can talk with your faithful shadow as you can with yourself.
