

May 23, 1967

GALLEY

WHO SAID THIS?

"I have offered the enemy my hand again and again. It was the very essence of my program to come to an understanding with them. We have never demanded anything from them and we have never insisted on anything. I repeatedly offered my hand, but always in vain. Even after this war had begun there were possibilities for agreement. After each battle, I offered my hand. They literally spat on me. We have been drawn into war against our will. No man can offer his hand more often than I have."

(ADOLF HITLER, speaking to the German people, just before the Battle of Stalingrad.)

M.L.